KANSAS LAW

CONCERNING WHISKEY TRAFFIC Who Has a Right to Destroy Sa- line Fixtures, Etc.

In the State of Kansas the constitution provides: "The manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors shall be forever prohibited in the State, except for medicinal, scientific and mechanical purposes."

The statutes further provide: "All places where intoxicating liquors are manufactured, bartered or given away in violation of any of the provisions of this act or where intoxicating liquors are kept for sale, barter or delivery in violation of this act are hereby declared to be common nuisances and upon the judgment of any court having jurisdiction, finding such place to be a nuisance, under this section, the sheriff, his deputy or under deputy or any constable of the proper county, or marshal of any city where the same is located, shall be directed to shut up and abate such place by taking possession thereof and destroying all intoxicating liquors found therein, together with all signs, screens, bars, bottles, glasses, and other property used in keeping and maintaining such nuisance and the owner or keeper thereof shall, upon conviction, be adjudged guilty of maintaining a common nuisance and shall be punished by a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $500, and by imprisonment in the county jail not less than thirty days, nor more than ninety days. The attorney general, county attorney, or any citizen of the county where such nuisance exists, or is kept, or is maintained, may maintain an action in the name of the State to abate and perpetually enjoin the same. The injunction shall be granted at the commencement of the action and no bond shall be required. Any person violating the terms of any injunction granted in such proceedings shall be punished as for contempt by a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $500, by imprisonment in the county jail not less than thirty days nor more than six months or both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court."

In writing of the work of Mrs. Nation Mrs. Francis Beauchamp, President of Kentucky W. C. T. U. says:

Mrs. Nefian is an educated, cultured, refined woman, about sixty years of age, with gentle, motherly ways, a devout Christian. After a fruitless effort as a local leader to arouse the courts and the public officials to a performance of their solemn oaths to enforce the law, she determined that the sleeping public conscience should be aroused and that the children and the homes of Kansas should have the benefit of the protection that the law guaranteed to them. A homemaker, a mother and a grand-mother, with the blood of Kentucky ancestors throbbing in her veins, she resolved to vex her righteous soul no longer by contending with the spirit of anarchy that had crept into the high places of government in her State, but use the right of every free born citizen to oppose lawlessness, be that lawlessness found in the low joint keeper or in the perfidious officeholder who had refused to hear evidence against the joint keeper and enforce the law of the State as he had solemnly sworn to do. Mrs. Nation has done no new thing under the sun, she is simply treading in the well defined paths of pioneers in the ages of the past.

BATH COUNTY ITEMS.

BETHEL.

A little son of George Perkins, near Moorefield, died of tonsillitis and was buried here.

Robert Wilson and family moved to his farm near Millersburg Friday to make their home.

On Thursday last at 7 o'clock p.m. our old and esteemed citizen Geo. Bott passed away and was buried Saturday at Flemingsburg among his relatives that have gone before. George Botts was a quiet, unobtrusive citizen.

SALT LICK

Capt. C. H. Whitcomb, aged about 71 years, died at Salt Lick February 8th, of consumption of the bowels. He was buried Saturday by the Masonic order, of which he was a member. He leaves three sons—W. A. and C. E., of Salt Lick, who are merchants, and G. C. of Shely, West Virginia. Mr. Whitcomb was an excellent citizen and will be greatly missed.

He was born in the State of Maine on Nov. 6, 1830, and came to Kentucky in September, 1869, settling at Bangor, in the lower edge of Morgan county. He resided there until 1879, when he removed to West Liberty. Three years later he returned to Bangor, from which place he came to Salt Lick in 1886, and resided there until his death. He was a prominent member of the Methodist church, uniting with it about 50 years ago. He lived a consistent Christian life, setting an example which all could well follow.

Richard Norris died at the home of his son near Salt Lick, Friday, Feb. 8. He was nearly 93 years old.

OWINGSVILLE

The February term of the Bath Circuit Court convened yesterday.

Tipton & Bryson sold their grocery store to Emmet Fratman. Byron has accepted a position with Goodpasture, Coons & Co. Tipton takes a position with L. E. Slesser.

Rev. G. W. Young addressed a large crowd at the Christian church Sunday night, February 10, in behalf of temperance. A collection amounting to about $25 was taken.

Daniel Palmer sold his 33 acre farm on lower Flat Creek to Sam Crim for $1000 and bought in the Rayboldville vicinity the 50-acre farm of W. E. Cassilly and wife, of Lexington, paying $50 per acre; possession of both given March 1st.

Mrs. Nancy Hart died at her home on Roe's Run, in Bath county, on February 7th, at the age of 86 years, 11 months and 7 days. She had been a member of the Christian church since she was a young woman.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dread disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work.

The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

A combination of the best cuff and shirt manufacturers is now regarded as a certainty. The interest represented aggregate $20,000,000. Instead of having individual offices in the different cities, a single clearing-house will be established in each market covering the general business. This reduces largely the expense or cost of the article. Will the customer get the best?

WALKED TEN MILES AND YET HE SLEPT.

WOODFORD COUNTY MAN WENT TO CALL ON HIS SICK SISTER.

At Versailles, Ky., Mack Sublette, a well known young man, boards at the Dean House. His father, Arthur Sublette, lives five miles south of Versailles. When Sublette started to his room between 11 and 12 o'clock Sunday night, February 10, he remarked to a friend: "My sister is very sick and I ought to have gone home to-night. Well, I'll drive out to-morrow."

He went to sleep at once. At 1 o'clock next morning a policeman met Sublette walking hurriedly toward McCowan's Ferry road. He hailed him, but received no reply. About 2 o'clock Sublette walked into his father's house and found his sister's bedside, inquired how she was, conversed with his stepmother some minutes, and before the family was aware of it he left the house. He walked back to Versailles and returned to bed at the hotel.

When Sublette awoke at six o'clock he was foot sore and exhausted, but knew nothing of his nocturnal jaunt, until he drove to his father's house and they questioned him about hurrying off in the night.

Sublette ridiculed the idea of having been there until the family's evidence was supported by that of his room-mate who missed him, the testimony of Policeman Albert Curtis, who met him in the street, and his own blistered feet and exhausted body.

"I was given up to die from heart and nervous troubles, caused by grip. Six bottles each of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nervine cured me,"—Mrs. John Wollet, Jefferson, Wis.

Will Complete the Contract.

The contract for the tunnel work on the Ohio & Kentucky railroad abandoned by C. E. Loss & Co., of Chicago, has been taken up by Mason, Hodges & Co., of Frankfort, and will be pushed to rapid completion.

For the weakness and prostration following grip there is nothing so prompt and effective as One Minute Cough Cure. This preparation is highly endorsed as an unfailing remedy for all throat and lung troubles and its early use prevents consumption. It was made to cure quickly. F. C. Durson.

The testimony already submitted on behalf of the Government in the case against C. F. W. Neely, the alleged post office embezzler in Cuba, covers more than 2,000 type-written pages. This represents only a portion of the evidence.

"Failing to find relief from the grip with old methods, I took Dr. Miles' Pain Pills, Nervine and Nerve and Liver Pills and was permanently cured."—Gust. Egan, Jackson, Mich.

A Kentuckian on Kentucky.

Editor Public Spirit.—Since I have been in Cleared (about a month) the good people here have asked me many questions about Kentucky. Many of them seem to have an idea that a Kentuckian must of necessity be an outlaw. This idea is erroneous and has its origin in the sensational reports sent out by a lot of penny-a-liners who conject every "killing," no matter what the circumstances are, with a "Kentucky feud."

There are Kentucky feuds such as the "French-Eversole," the "Hateful-McCoy," the "Baker-White," etc, but, happily, they were all confined to one small section of the State—the south-eastern part—in the eleventh Congressional district, which gave Verdes and Taylor, Republican candidates for Governor, about 18,000 majority. The people of the mountains, generally, as well as those of the blue grass and bear grass regions, are honest, courageous, hospitable, courteous and civil, albeit any Kentuckian who lays claim to being a gentleman will resent an insult. His nature is to treat people with respect and requires the same treatments for himself.

Nearly every Kentuckian goes well armed every day—with a cork screw, but comparatively few men of courage carry deadly weapons. Such a practice is cowardly and when a man of true courage feels it to be his duty to box the ears of one of those walking arsenals and perform that duty, fire arms are seldom called into action. An Irishman, Pat Punch, one of the bravest and truest men I ever knew was Chief-of-Police of the city of Mt. Sterling, Ky., for six years and never carried a weapon of any kind, not even a "billy," during his incumbency, although he passed through Mt. Sterling's stormiest period, and arrested some of the most dangerous characters in that section. I believe the song which says, "You never knew a coward where the Shamrock grows," is about the size of it.

The most disgraceful blot on the page of Kentucky history was placed there by pretender Wm. S. Taylor, now a fugitive from justice. The Goebel-Taylor election was held under the election law which bore Governor Goebel's name, and by that same law Taylor was given a certificate of election, reciting the fact that Taylor had received the majority of the votes cast upon the face of the returns.

The contest was made under a clause of the constitution as old as the Commonwealth itself and not under the Goebel law, as the Republican speakers and papers would have you believe. The Goebel law had no more to do with that contest than Senator Johnson's anti-high-hat law.

The Democrats proceeded along legal and constitutional lines and kept their temper. They didn't fight nor talk about fighting and when pretender Taylor saw the hand writing on the wall, that his name must soon be mud, then it was that the diabolical plot was made to kill Governor Goebel. Then from this dark corner of Kentucky were brought, on free railroad passes, eleven hundred freedmen and red-handed murderers to terrorize the capitol. The legislature was dispersed by the bayonet to assemble in London, Laurel county, an unimportant little town where Taylor and his gang expected protection. There has not been such an outrage committed since the day when the Pretorian Guard of blood-stained conspirators, led with the blood of the virtuous Perini, rushed out on the ramparts of their sordid camps and auctioned off the world by the throne of Rome. Kentucky, praise the Lord, is all right now. Revolution has ceased and law and order reigns. After the hanging is over, normal conditions will be restored.

S. S. CASSITY

In Public Spirit, of Cleared, Pa., February 7.

From Checotah, Indian Territory.

Dear Editor.—There has been so much said in the papers about the Indian uprising I feel like saying a word to let my friends know I have not been scalped. I have charge of the church at Eufaula and Checotah, the seat of the great uprising. If I never die till I am scalped by the Indians, I expect I will live a long time. The Indian, as a rule, is a peaceable, quiet citizen, unless he is crazed by rum. Over ninety per cent of the meanness done here is by the white man. There are many more whites than red men. A great many of these whites love adventure and would be glad to kill the poor Indian, the one whom he has robbed of his land. Let us notice a few things in detail about the uprising:

—A treaty was made with the Indians years ago that this land is to be theirs "as long as the rivers flow and the grass grows green." Uncle Sam considered that the Indian broke his part of the treaty when he sided with and fought for Southern Confederacy. After the war the Indian was forced to share his land with the slaves that were in his possession. And still later on Uncle Sam broke his treaty by taking from the red man the right of self-government. They have officers in name only. The name of their officers are Chiefs, Light horsemen (sheriffs), Kings and Warriors (representatives and senators).

—Many of the Indians have opposed to any new treaties. I have had a long talk with one of the most intelligent of the Creek leaders. He says for some time there has been considerable opposition on the part of the full bloods to any innovations. These full bloods can not speak English much and as a rule are ignorant. They have had implicit confidence in Uncle Sam and thought that this is too great and good a nation to break treaty, and have blamed some of the more intelligent leaders for the changes. On the other hand some of these leaders have seen the wire working and have favored a few changes in order to conciliate things.

—As to the uprising—there has been no uprising except the increase in the circulation of the papers. Every newspaper reporter says the other fellow made the money. "Snake" did have some followers, I don't very much whether there were one hundred. He was misled by some one in authority at Washington. He was sent word that the Government would stand by his treaty, of course he thought the old treaty was meant. Instead of his message to the President being an insolent one it was intended as one of deference—just simply notifying the President that he had resumed self-government. "Snake" and several of his followers were brought to this town to send to Muskogee jail. They were full blood Indians but did not look like mean ones. The Judge has given instructions to the "Grand Jury" to find a bill of treason against the leaders. On comes the arrest of the leaders, Wright, and others, prominent white citizens say they are going to Intercede for their release. I know that many white men would be glad of a chance to kill an Indian. Due allowance should be made. We should remember that the red man, though not as much civilized as we are, is our brother.

NO MORE CIGARETTES.

An anti cigarette bill has passed both houses of the Delaware Legislature and will be signed by the Governor.

A pity that men will engage in a habit of destroying themselves until the back bone of the community must demand protection by legislative enactment. A cigarette fad is deliberate in sublede the same as those addicted to the opium habit. Were evil effects confined to the indulging individual it would matter little, but the effects are handed down by impartation until the Nation becomes weaklings in mind and body, and our asylums and other homes for our unfortunate are filled to overflowing and the burden in caring for them becomes onerous. There are some men who will puff a cigarette in the presence of the intelligent and respectable, and this is evidence of the complete destruction of the sense to shame the same as the man who, reared in a moral home, had been taught pride, that his native endowments, developed by education in colleges and travel were sufficient to bring light from chaos, to advance the age materially, and yet would yield to the wine glass habit until from an acknowledged leader in the world's strides he is a common drunkard on the list of the pitiable. Kentucky, once proud and chivalrous, has much to do in protecting her sons and daughters from the cigarette, the whisky, the opium habit. The time is now.

WHO IS TO BLAME?

Official Reporter, C. Cyrus Turner, of the Court of Appeals, asserts that the delay in publishing the court reports is chargeable to the Public Printer, and the Public Printer lays the delay to Mr. Turner. Well, we don't know anything of this special case, but we do know Charles Turner's way of transacting business. We know he is always ready with copy in hand, and if he was not prompt with Mr. Fetter it was an exception. We expect it will be proven the Public Printer was overcrowded with work and that here lies the cause. In taking large jobs the publisher often gives off more than he can chaw within a given time.

Jacob Henry is a candidate for Councilman in the Fourth Ward, subject to the action of the Democratic party. We had thought of Jake much, for we esteem him highly, but never in connection with this place until now. It takes men of different minds to make a wise Council, and so different is he in thought from others named, we have no hesitancy in saying he will make a good one, and if he and Charlie Oldham don't make fine Councilmen it won't be for their lack of ability, their push and tenacity. We are sure Mr. Henry will make a profitable Councilman and that through him something that ought to have been done will be accomplished. He will make very few mistakes. His Democracy is pure. From his youth he has abstained from intoxicants of all kinds, and is a safe man.

Mr. C. H. Bryan has again been induced to allow his name to go before the Democratic party subject to their action as a candidate for Councilman of the First Ward. Mr. Bryan has been on this board for many years. He has been faithful and wise in the discharge of his duties. In his hands the city's interests have not suffered. Mr. Bryan is a studious man and observes the progress of other cities of the same class, is quick to see our needs and then presses for the adoption of methods by which we are kept abreast with other cities. We have never at any time had a better Councilman than Mr. Bryan, and we do not know of any man in the First Ward or the city of Mt. Sterling that would make a more acceptable Councilman than Mr. Bryan. His record is before the people. His running mate is Millard Haininge, a new man in this business. He also asks the Democratic party to name him as its candidate. We can judge of Mr. Haininge for this place only from his record in his private business. He has been attentive to his own and so he will be to the city's. He has been conscientious in his own and so he will be with the city's. He has been energetic in his own and so he will be in the city's. He has been safe in his own and so he will be in the city's. Millard Haininge will make a fine Councilman and no ward would have better men to care for the city's interests than the First. His Democracy is acceptable.

T. H. Eastin and John F. King are candidates for Councilmen in the Second Ward. Mr. Eastin being one of the present incumbents, his record is before the people, and they are therefore in position to judge the material he is made of and whether he is the best man that can be offered for Councilman in his ward. As the rocks are firmly implanted in the hills, so Mr. Eastin is implanted in the principles of Democracy. He offers his record and pledges to use his best abilities in the discharge of his duties as Councilman in serving the best interests of the city.

Mr. King is a young man—a bachelor—one who can not afford, even were he so disposed to be an idler in any calling. As a bank officer he made a good one; dry goods merchant he is up-to-date, and so we may expect of him as a Councilman. On subjects coming before him he will have decided views, and we believe will be careful and aggressive. As a Democrat he is ever loyal.

In this issue appears the announcement of Mr. W. T. Stokley, of Spencer, who asks the voters of this county to name him as their Jailer. He has been a resident of the county for about 20 years. He is a farmer. He seeks the nomination for the office at the hands of the Democratic party, with which he has been affiliated all his life, and for the interest of which he has labored. At the last county election he aspired to this same position, but being defeated he supported and worked for the nominee. So far as his habits and character are concerned, his life is known to our people and he fears no investigation. He asks a consideration of his claim.

To our ears have come the news that some of our Democratic friends are not pleased with the city slate and are round doing much talking. Now this is not the way for Democrats to do. If they are not pleased get up another slate; put out candidates and let the Democrats settle the question as to who shall make up the slates, and then we will all be with the nominees—prepared to give the Republican ticket what Patti gave the drum.

In this issue we announce Henry Watson candidate for County Attorney. Mr. Watson came to this city from Estill county in 1882, a poor carpenter, and after following his trade a short while was appointed railroad watchman and special police, and while thus serving lost a foot and while recovering from this he read law and was admitted to the bar about five years ago. With a large family he has struggled hard, gaining a good practice and supporting them. In addition to his practice he put a telephone plant in here, one at Winchester, one at Morehead, and is now arranging for a plant at Jackson. During this period he has found an abundance of time to do political work for his friends, even adhering to the principles of Democracy. For two terms he served as Councilman from the Second Ward, and for many years has been Secretary of the Fire Department. Mr. Watson is young, active and determined, and says if the Democrats will name him for County Attorney he will win the race against any Republican that party may offer and that the people will never regret having chosen him to fill this important place, for he will set to work to the best of his ability and those who wilfully disregard law are punished to its limit.

THE FIGHT DECLARED OFF.

On Thursday at Cincinnati, O., Judge Hollister issued a permanent injunction against the Jeffries-Ruhlin contest proceeding in that city on Friday night or any other date.

We congratulate Gov. Nash for the firm stand he took in suppressing this prize fight. We hope to see the downfall of such "athletic culture." Of course, there will be some "high-toned gentlemen of refined taste" who will object to the rulings of Judge Hollister and the opposition of the Governor.

The laws of Kansas may permit the destruction of property in illegal use, but they most surely do not invite it. Mrs. Carrie Nation's work of property destruction may result in the loss of several drunks, but her course is anything but laudable. It is Kansas' business to enforce her laws and a failure of the officers to discharge their duty makes them answerable not to Mrs. Nation or any set of women, but to the entire people. Mayor Harrison spoke well when he said she had better return to her home.

If John F. Richardson is nominated and elected as Assessor he will have for his deputy Mr. Bert O'Rear, of the Grassy Lick neighborhood, a man who has been raised on the farm, an intelligent, energetic and honorable man, well qualified to accurately estimate the values of land, its product, live stock, etc.

In this issue is the announcement of Mr. James W. Lockridge, who asks the voters of this county to commit to him the duties and responsibilities of the office of Jailer. He seeks the nomination by the Democratic party. He is a native of the county and is held in high esteem. He is an excellent citizen, worthy of the trust, if he is elected.

Mt. Sterling pavements are awful. Some day the city will wake to find a damage suit of some size, because some one has slipped and fallen on their terrible pavements breaking bones.

Every man has a right to ask for party favors and it seems from those out and those talked of the woods is full of them thus asking.

Speaker Henderson's again in his chair in the House of Representatives after a severe attack of grip. 284

The churches of the city, representing a membership of more than 1500, and congregations which should represent at least double that number, closed their doors to the gospel on last Sunday evening, to hear Mrs. Frances Beauchamp, of Lexington, tell about the W. C. T. U. school which they hope to have some of these days. There are hundreds of people in Mt. Sterling who are unsaved and since the foolishness of preaching is enjoined and through it salvation is brought to the lost, we doubt the wisdom of closing the houses. We approve temperance, education and that a hearing should be given Mrs. Beauchamp, but we hardly think the Lord's day the time to do this work—advertising a temperance organ, recruiting for white ribbon bands and enthusing the people on educational lines. We are heartily in sympathy with every movement which tends to better the people, but the gospel must never be put in background. Who knows but that some soul will answer in hell: I would have yielded to the overtures of mercy Sunday evening, February 17, 1901, but no opportunity was offered. Who would be responsible?

GOVERNOR OF OREGON
Uses Pe-ru-na
For Colds
and Grip.

CAPITOL BUILDING, SALEM, OREGON.

A Letter From the Executive Office of Oregon.

The Governor of Oregon is an ardent admirer of Pe-ru-na. He keeps it constantly in his house. In a recent letter to Dr. Hartman he says:

STATE OF OREGON,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
SALEM, May 8, 1886.

The Pe-ru-na is a great medicine; Dear Sirs—I have had occasion to use your Pe-ru-na medicine in my family for colds, and it proved to be an excellent remedy. I have not had occasion to use it for other ailments.

Yours truly, W. M. Lord.
Any man who wishes perfect health must be entirely free from asthma. Catarrh is well-nigh universal; almost omnipresent. Pe-ru-na is the only absolute safeguard known. A cold is the beginning of catarrh. To prevent colds, to cure colds, is to cheat catarrh out of Reversed Cases.

In the Federal Court of Appeals at Cincinnati the cases of Robert Locke, H. H. Muller, W. F. Critt and J. J. O'Neill, of Louisville, charged with conspiring to prevent negroes from voting, were reversed. The court reversed the cases on the error of Judge Evans, who, in his instruction to the jury which tried the men said, in substance: "Such men as these committed just such crime."

This the court held was concerning the character of the defendants, and there was nothing in the record to warrant any such statement.

To Succeed Judge Kimbrough.
Gov. Beckham last week appointed the Hon. Henson Kennedy, of Carlisle, Circuit Judge of the Eighteenth judicial district, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of W. W. Kimbrough. A election will have to be held in November.

A powerful engine cannot be run with a weak boiler, and we can't keep up the strain of an active life with a weak stomach; neither can we stop the human machine to make repairs. If the stomach cannot digest enough food to keep the body strong, such a preparation as Kodol Dyapepa Cure should be used. It digests what you eat and it simply can't help but do you good. F. C. County Democratic Primary Call
For April 19. Assessment Of Candidates.

At a meeting of the Democratic County Executive Committee held this February 16th, 1901, for the purpose of fixing the time and prescribing the mode of holding an election for selection of Democratic candidates to be voted for at the November Election 1901, it was ordered:

That a primary election be held in all the voting precincts of Montgomery county between the hours of 6 a.m. and 4 p.m. on Friday the 19th day of April, 1901, according to the laws of the State of Kentucky governing primary elections.

All Democrats, and all persons that have heretofore affiliated with the Democratic party, and all young men, and all democrats who were in Montgomery county and residents thereof on or before April 1, 1901, and who intend to affiliate with the Democratic party, who agree to support the nominees of said primary election, are invited to participate.

The list of persons eligible to be voted for as candidates at said primary election shall be closed on April 4th, 1901.

All candidates who desire to be voted for shall on or before April 4th, 1901, deposit with G. W. Baird, Secretary and Treasurer of said Committee, the following amounts:

For each candidate as follows:

For County Judge	$75
..... Clerk	"
..... Sheriff	"
..... County Attorney	"
..... Jailer	"
..... Assessor	50
..... County Superintendent	35
..... Coroner	2
..... Surveyor	5
..... Magistrate	5
..... Constable	2

Should not more than one candidate offer for each or any of said offices, qualified as aforesaid, the Committee will declare such candidate or candidates to be the nominees of the said Democratic party for said offices.

The fac simile of the signature of the Chairman shall be placed on the back of each ballot.

The Chairman shall have notices of the primary election posted as required by law.

The ballots shall be preserved as required by law in regular elections.

The County Clerk shall furnish copies of the registration books for the respective precincts of the city of Mt. Sterling, and the election officers shall be governed by said books in the qualification of persons offering to vote.

The County Committee shall meet at the office of the Chairman at 10 o'clock a. m. on Saturday, April 6, 1901, for the purpose of selecting election officers, and will also decide by lot at the respective positions each candidate shall have on the ballot, and shall also certify to the proper person, candidate that have no opposition.

And thereupon, upon motion said Committee adjourned to meet April 19.

R. A. CHILES, Chairman.

GEO. W. BAIRD, Secretary.

Important Decision.

In the case of the city of Lexington vs. Fishback's Trustee, the Court of Appeals in affirming the judgment of the lower court, held that property held by a trustee is taxable at the home of real owner. Mrs. Fishback lived in Jefferson county, and the property for which trust notes were executed was situated in Lexington, and the effect is that the city of Lexington loses its suit to collect taxes on the notes.

MARRIAGES.

HINSON-BABURN.

On Tuesday afternoon February 12, 1901, at 2 o'clock, at the residence of B. W. Trimble, Mr. J. W. Hinson of Clark county, near Sewell's shop, was married to Miss Nancy, daughter of George Baburn, of Camargo. W. A. Boone and wife accompanied them. The ceremony was performed by our junior editor in the presence of the ladies of the home. Our best wishes attend them.

RALLS JONES.

Miss Mary Lindsey Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jones, of near Judy, will be married to Mr. James Oliver Ralls, at the Phoenix Hotel in Lexington next Thursday. They will return on the evening train and will immediately drive to "Pleasant Retreat" the beautiful country home of Mr. and Mrs. Jones, where an elegant reception will be held at 7:30. Miss Jones is a very beautiful and attractive young lady and has a host of admirers. Mr. Ralls is a prominent young farmer of near Sharpsburg. They will be at home at Mr. Ralls' beautiful Nicholas county home. We join with a host of friends in extending congratulations in advance for a long, happy and prosperous life.

WARREN-BRONSTON.

The marriage of Mr. Guy Warren, of Chicago, and Miss Katherine Bronston, of Lexington, took place on Tuesday and was a brilliant social event.

BERRY-WOOD.

On Thursday, February 14, at the residence of Rev. F. J. Clark in Paris, Elmer Berry and Miss Kittie Wood, two of Sharpsburg's popular young people, were married. They spent Thursday night in this city with Mrs. J. P. Games, mother of the groom. The groom is a hardware merchant and is an energetic young man. The bride is the daughter of W. H. Wood and wife, and is a beautiful and accomplished young lady.

PREWITT-PREWITT.

The marriage of Mr. Ed R. Prewitt, son of W. H. Prewitt, to Miss Patsey C. Prewitt, daughter of Caswell Prewitt, will take place at the bride's home on Feb. 27. They will at once go to housekeeping on the W. D. Thompson farm in Clark county.

The contracting parties are of our best families, well and favorably known, and will begin married life under favorable circumstances.

PATNTER-CROOKS.

On Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, March 12, Mr. Henry D. Pavister, of Middlesboro, Ky., will be married to Miss Mary Imogene Crooks, daughter of James T. Crooks, at their country home near Crooks, Bath county. They will be at Middlesboro after March 20. The groom is a lawyer of that city.

A Clear Head.

"I am an engineer and for years was handicapped in my work by frequent attacks of severe headache. In spite of everything I could do these spells grew worse until they became almost continual. Hearing of Dr. Miles' Nervine through a friend who had used it, I began taking it for my head, and it gave me relief from the start. In a short time my head was as clear as a bell, and has not troubled me since." E. W. WILSON, Alcott, Colo.

Mrs. Francis Beauchamp at Mt.
Sterling.

SUNDAY evening the church of the city closed their doors to hear Mrs.

Francis Beauchamp at the Baptist church. At least 500 persons heard his talented woman. She was here by invitation of the local W. C. T. U.

For a basis of his remarks on Mount ain School work she took the 14th and 15th meetings of the 10th Chapter of Romans. Every organization has a definite purpose. Only those with living principles live on and on. The chief corner stone of the W. C. T. U.

is healthy religion, and for this we are backed by the Word. What we eat in quantity and quality has to do with even our thoughts. A poor beef steak badly prepared a poor speech.

Eating and drinking has much to do with posterity. Better be an offspring of the periodical spreading huband than one of the moderate drink-mother.

We clothe the boy and girl from throat to foot to protect from cold,

but fail to guard them from the drink or cigarette counter. The business men will not allow any responbility filled by the drunkard or cigarette fiend. The dress should be for health. Tight corsets and heavy skirts are hurtful. Men go from the first drink, cigarette and debauch to an early ruin. I mention these things to know the great need of education.

Eastern Kentucky people have received the school of the W. C. T. U. I found teachers with first-class certificates who did not understand me when I spoke of the Lord's prayer. In an institute where there were fifteen six teachers eight knew the Lord's prayer and one fourth owned bibles and testaments.

An Industrial School is needed. We don't go in debt and as soon as the money is received our Eastern Kentucky Mountain Schools will be open. An non-sectarian school is best for the reason it would be without prejudice. I don't know church lines, but I care to know. It is Christ alone in whom I glory. After calling at home to her W. C. T. U. paper, taking a collection for personal expenses and asking for volunteers in the white ribbon band, meeting adjourned. Mu-stis for the occasion consisting of instrumental duet, vocal solo, quartettes and chorus under the direction of Mrs. R. Q. Drake wife of

Jas. R. Magowan on Monday refused $150 for a pair of extra fine mar-mades. His price is $500. This is probably the finest pair of marmies in the State. They weigh over 300 lbs.

and are 4-years-old.

Reductions In War Revenue Bill.

The Senate substitute for the War Revenue Bill as it passed the House has been reported. Taxes are reduced on cigars, tobacco, beer, proprietary medicines, insurance, bankers and capital, and the special tax on commercial brokers is repealed. The tax on bank checks is restored. Among the stamp taxes reported are those on promissory notes, mortgages, telegrams and express and freight receipts.

WHAT ACTING IS.

Views of Henry Irving Relating to Masters of the Stage.

"I have been termed 'natural' and 'unnatural,'" says Henry Irving in an interview in the London Era. "Now, what is nature in the theater? If to have personality for a moment we are to act upon the curious advice of some of our friends and play Shakespeare without scenery and only boards—do not mean a pun, please—and just announce, 'This is a wood,' or 'This is a palace,' and thereby tell a deliberate tarradiddle, is that nature? I think not. Nature unadorned, we have it on authority, is the best. But all will agree that it is best not to carry that simile too far. We who present so many hours' traffic of the stags of the masterpieces of the world's literature strive for the poetic and true. We do not seek for meteoritic show. We desire to let the player see the play as it should be, and therefore we mount it as well and accurately as we can. As to acting, eh? Well, well. Acting what is acting? Before now these have been discussed by others. Yes, and by myself. As you say, by myself. No great harm in that. Still, what is acting? That is the question. An actor born? Perhaps; he is not exactly made, yet many actors have been made out of unpromising material. The point is that a man who feels he is an actor almost invariably succeeds in convincing others that he is right. So much depends upon temperament. Every actor who plays tragic parts has his theory about Hamlet. My dear friend, every man who thinks he is Hamlet. Hamlet was a vacillating thinker, a dreamer, a person of inaction, who, like so many of us mortals, meant well, but practically did not achieve overmuch. So, every actor who essays the part on the stage, being somewhat of a thinker himself, plays Hamlet as he feels him; and the part can be played a hundred—may, a thousand—different ways. And no one, no master who may be, can say whether any one particular playing is right or wrong; because we each and all judge the part from our own inward temperament and theory and criticism accordingly."

WHY THEY DID NOT SHOOT.

Men Who Were Not Built on Plan of Good Entertainment.

The story ran thus: The assistant was alone in camp, and saw the numberless lion passing near the camp, when he took a rifle and double-barreled shotgun and ran to a big rock out in the plain, which the lion had shot at. As the lion came within gunshot, the assistant would take up the gun and sight it over the rock at the animal, and then take it down without firing, to take up the other, and go through the same motions, until the lion was out of reach. Then, turning to his assistant, Capasid: "We were ashamed to let the rest of the party know about it, and said nothing, but will you tell us now why you did not shoot?"

After the laugh was ended, says the Forest and Stream, the assistant said: "I never was much of a hunter, nor a very good shot, and took both guns with me; but when I was confronted with the lion coming closer and closer, he kept growing bigger and bigger, until he seemed to me to be as big as an elephant, and I was afraid to shoot at him with the shotgun, for fear that I would wound him, and I did not dare shoot at him with the rifle, for fear that I could not kill him with the first shot, and when I saw how big he was, I made up my mind to let him alone, if he would only stay where he was." The lion was indeed very large, and the assistant was made up of several figures, very badly painted, which however, seemed to be the representations of several gods, for according as they were distributed around the circle, each of the devotees placed before them offering according to his devotion. I observed that the offerings were very much larger than those which are made in their public temples.

"After the ceremony of which I have spoken, the priest raised his trembling hand to the rest of the book and appeared several times seized with fear and incapable of action. All the others, awaiting what was about to do, remained motionless and expectant. As each leaf was inspected the spectators appeared variously agitated according to the different emotions which influenced them. One, with joined hands, raised his eyes to Heaven, another ground his teeth, a third bit his fingers and beat his feet on the floor, and at last all of them adopted such attitudes and were seized with such singular contortions that they scarcely appeared to be human beings. But when the old man had the priest turned over certain leaves than he became him self enraged, tore the book, upset the altar, and cursed the ceremony. One heard now only lamentations, cries and imprecations. On seeing them thus furious and possessed, I judged that the god they worshipped was a jealous god, who, to punish them for sacrificing to other deities, had caused each of them to be possessed by a bad spirit."

AS A SIAMESE DESCRIBED IT.

His Native Account of the Rites Observed by Card Players.

A very curious and interesting letter has been written to a compatriot by a Siamese visitor to Paris, in which the observant Asiatic records his impressions of card playing in the upper circles of the French capital. According to the Paris Gaulois, he says:

"The French declare that they worship one God only, but I do not believe it. For beyond the living God, to which one sees them pay their vows, they have several other inanimate deities to which they sacrifice, as I have remarked in one of their assemblies where I chanced to be present. There was to be seen a large round altar, decorated with a green cloth, lighted from above, and surrounded by several persons who were seated, as we are in our domestic rites. When I entered, one of them, who appeared to be the priest, spread upon the altar several leaves which he detached from a little book that he held in his hand. Upon the leaves were depicted several figures, very badly painted, which however, seemed to be the representations of several gods, for according as they were distributed around the circle, each of the devotees placed before them offering according to his devotion. I observed that the offerings were very much larger than those which are made in their public temples.

"After the ceremony of which I have spoken, the priest raised his trembling hand to the rest of the book and appeared several times seized with fear and incapable of action. All the others, awaiting what was about to do, remained motionless and expectant. But when the old man had the priest turned over certain leaves than he became him self enraged, tore the book, upset the altar, and cursed the ceremony. One heard now only lamentations, cries and imprecations. On seeing them thus furious and possessed, I judged that the god they worshipped was a jealous god, who, to punish them for sacrificing to other deities, had caused each of them to be possessed by a bad spirit."

"A few days afterward we had a high south wind, and the hunters said: 'Now we'll get that lion.' We went about a mile to an oututting rocky spur of the mountain, where he had been seen. I mounted the lion located in a den in some rocks, and when the wind came right, he would smoke him out for me and give me a chance to shoot him.

EAT sparingly. Your digestive organs are in no condition to take care of large quantities of food.

DRINK plenty of pure, cold water. It relieves the fever, stimulates the kidneys to action and opens up the pores of the skin. Keep the bowls open with Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills.

TAKE three doses of Dr. Miles' Nerve per day, and if you cannot sleep take an extra dose at bed time. To further control the fever, and to overcome the peculiar aches and pains of grip, drink Dr. Miles' Pain Pills. They act quickly and effectively, and no bad effects result from their use. These remedies have been thoroughly tested more, than a million times, and their efficiency is thoroughly established. They never fail to give relief.

Dr. Miles' Remedies can be found at any drug store, and they are sold on a positive guarantee that first bottle benefits or money refunded.
